The First Wedding Of The Ice Hotel 2003
AN INTIMAGE WHITE WEDDING FOR TWO AMERICANS

Sainte-Catherine-de-la-Jacques-Cartier (Québec) - Sunday, January 26, 2003

Carrie Van Vert and Thomas Gosselin Fontaine wished for a little non-traditional wedding. At first, the lovers from Masury, Ohio (USA) thought about having their honeymoon at the Ice Hotel, but after hearing of the magnificent Ice Chapel, they opted for the magical decor of the Ice Hotel to unite their destiny.

After the beautiful ceremony, their romantic escapade continued when they left the Ice Hotel in a dog sled, had an intimate candle-lit dinner and a cozy evening in the 007 suite, the replica of the great room from the latest movie about the famous British secret agent.

To Carrie Van Verth and Thomas Gosselin Fontaine, all our best wishes!
